

THE SECRET BOOKMARK

A Dummy Book for the Book Club Website

Written by Thiya Mysani

1. Chapter One: The Hidden Shelf

On a rainy afternoon, Thiya wandered into a quiet little library she had never noticed before. The room smelled of old paper and polished wood, and soft light fell across the rows of books. While searching for something interesting to read, she noticed a small shelf hidden behind a tall wooden cabinet.

On the shelf was a single book with no title on its cover. Tucked between its pages was a silver bookmark with a tiny star engraved on it. When Thiya opened the book, she found a handwritten sentence: Some stories are waiting for the right reader. She smiled and turned the page.

2. Chapter Two: The Reading Circle

The following week, Thiya returned to the library and told her friends about the mysterious book. Curious, they decided to meet every Saturday to read together. Each friend brought a different story, and every meeting became an opportunity to share ideas, favorite characters, and memorable moments.

The silver bookmark was passed from reader to reader. It became a reminder that reading could bring people closer, even when their favorite stories were completely different. Before long, the little reading circle had become a welcoming community for anyone who loved books.

3. Chapter Three: A Story to Share

One evening, Thiya finally finished the mysterious book. The last page contained only one sentence: A story becomes more special when it is shared. She understood then that the secret was never hidden inside the book. It was the connection created between readers who gathered to discover stories together.

Thiya placed the silver bookmark inside the next book she chose. The reading circle continued meeting, and the bookmark traveled from one story to another, carrying the same message wherever it went: there is always another page to turn and another story to share.
